

Hammond Junior School Case Study

Hammond Community Junior School had relied on coat hooks to provide personal storage to their 350 students but it was becoming difficult to manage and required an overhaul.

Atlas Lockers were chosen for their high quality, colourful options and adherence to safety recommendations.

Although the school was initially concerned about the limited space available, they were guided to install them in a layout that served each of the 6 year groups.

Hammond School were exceptionally pleased with the Atlas Lockers as it made movement around the school easier, reduced potential lost property, met fire standards and provided more than enough storage space for their students.
